Ike's Message To Congress Sets Off Political Skirmish

WASHINGTON (AP)—The political skirmishing was on in Congress today with Democrats challenging President Eisenhower on foreign, farm, tax and other major election-year issues.

Democrats Say Ike Will Run

GOP Denies Seeing Any Hint In Message

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some Democrats today read into President Eisenhower's State of the Union message strong indications that he may seek a second term.

Republicans generally professed to find no such clues in a document which Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, said Thursday was full of "political overtones."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said in an interview the tone of Eisenhower's message to Congress indicated to him that unless some adverse physical report is forthcoming Eisenhower is getting ready to run again.

McClellan commented that many of the President's proposals were "obviously more political than prudent."

Sen. George (D-Ga.) said he doesn't know what Eisenhower is planning to do but "he covered a lot of ground in the message just like Harry Truman used to do."

Rep. Flood (D-Pa.) said Eisenhower's message "sounded like the statement of a candidate." Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) called it "an announcement for re-election," adding that it was "the most patently political document in years."

Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader who is expected to seek his party's presidential nomination if Eisenhower doesn't run, shrugged off questions about any political import of the message.

But Sen. Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the assistant GOP leader, said he doesn't believe Eisenhower gave the "slightest hint of whether he intends to run."

Sen. Francis Case (R-S.D.) found Eisenhower "more concerned with the responsibilities of the presidency than with the rhetoric of the candidate."

the attack, saying the state of the union and the world is not nearly so rosy as Eisenhower pictured it in his annual message to Congress Thursday.

Johnson told a news conference the "political overtones" of the President's message "are the subject of deep disappointment and great regret" to those who have tried to cooperate with the administration in the national interest.

Sees Deep Concern
"Most Americans know that the domestic situation is not as rosy as it is pictured and that the international situation is one of deep concern."

He said the administration had become "frantic about the farm situation" and was rushing out a program to appeal to the voters—particularly those in the Midwest—in this year's elections.

Commenting on Eisenhower's call for payments on the national debt before tax cuts, Johnson said the Republicans had been bragging for months about reducing taxes 7½ billion dollars in a period of deficit spending.

Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee backed Eisenhower's statement that in a time of prosperity the nation could not afford to go further in debt to cut taxes.

George Evers Tax Cut
Sen. George (D-Ga.), a Finance Committee member, reiterated his determination to push for a tax reduction for those in the low and middle income brackets as soon as budget balancing is in sight.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee said he wants to see the President's Jan. 16 budget message before discussing tax cuts. What Eisenhower said Thursday offered "nothing new," he said.

Regardless of what finally is done on individual tax relief, quick congressional approval is regarded as likely for Eisenhower's request for another year's extension of existing excise and corporation income tax rates, now due to drop April 1 to pre-Korean War levels.

To Attack Farm Problem
Chairman Ellender (D-La.) and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture Committee, awaiting a special farm message from Eisenhower Monday, promised to attack the problem of falling farm prices on a "nonpartisan basis."

But this peace move seemed likely to be restricted and short-lived in view of the attitude of Johnson and other Democrats.

Rt. 14 Alternate Taken Off Ohio Major Road List

Stretch From Salem To Deerfield Can't Share Bond Revenue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state highway construction council today announced its decision on a dozen proposals to change the state major thoroughfare system.

The net result was subtracting 19.28 miles from the system, which takes in about 6,200 miles of road.

Some of the changes were proposed by the public, some by the state highway department.

Public hearings on the proposals were held in October to determine which roads should be part of the major thoroughfare system. Revenue from the state's one-half billion dollars in highway bonds can be used on these roads.

The council reviews its classification of roads every two years. Proposals and actions included:

The council removed Ohio 14 alternate from the system from U. S. 62 in Salem to U. S. 224 in Deerfield. And it added relocated Ohio 14 from Ohio 14A at Columbiana to U. S. 224 west of Canfield. The changes resulted from the relocation of Ohio 14.

Asked To Add Route
The highway department and the public had asked adding U. S. 68 or U. S. 62 to the major thoroughfare system from Washington Courthouse to Ripley and the addition of either Ohio 74 or Ohio 125 from Cincinnati to either U. S. 68 or U. S. 62.

The council said that if both U. S. 68 and U. S. 62 are joined on a new highway on relocation from Ripley north to a point between Red Oak and Gooselick Pike, the new route would be added to the major thoroughfare system. It added "the development of the remainder of either U. S. 68 or U. S. 62 north to Washington Courthouse is important to the economic development of this portion of the state and should be

Normal Picketing At Westinghouse Plant Reported

Sheriff's Deputies, Police Alerted For Possible Rioting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Franklin County sheriff's office reported normal picketing at the struck Columbus Westinghouse plant early today.

Sheriff's deputies and police had been alerted for another possible mass demonstration such as the one which resulted in violence at the company plant Tuesday.

The alert was given by Sheriff Ralph Paul last night, who said he had received numerous reports that a second demonstration of striking International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) would be held today.

Paul said he had deputies stationed near the plant to maintain peace and order. Columbus police also were on call, he added.

Denies Demonstration Planned
A spokesman for striking Local 746 denied any demonstration was being planned. The union, he said, last night intends to obey picketing restrictions ordered by county Common Pleas Court.

One striker died of a heart attack and 88 others were arrested in the demonstration Tuesday.

At the Newark plant, a company-requested injunction against unlawful picketing was denied yesterday by Common Pleas Judge Charles B. Holtzberry.

The judge said Local 714, IUE, had agreed some weeks ago to limit pickets to four at each of the plant's two gates.

More Than Four Pickets
"It has come to the attention of the court," Holtzberry said, "that there has been more than four at a time and such must discontinue immediately . . . or the injunction in the hands of the Common Pleas Court will immediately be signed and granted."

The company claimed 19 to 25 strikers had gathered at one gate Wednesday.

In Bellefontaine, the Auglaize County Grand Jury has indicted two striking Lima Westinghouse employees on charges of malicious destruction of property.

Louis A. Metzger and Walter L. Morrison were accused of throwing a stone through a window at the home of Harold Blank, Rt. 1, Waynesfield, who has returned to work at the plant. Both men were released under $200 bond each.

Plan To Settle Strike Rejected

Westinghouse Urges Ballot By Workers

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. refused late Thursday to accept a federal mediator's proposal for ending a nationwide strike. It suggested instead a plan pegged to a secret ballot by striking employees on a contract offer already rejected by union negotiators.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers said in Washington the secret ballot by 44,000 IUE members in 30 plants would be a choice between the company offer and union demands.

Federal mediator Joseph F. Finnegan said he wanted Westinghouse to clarify the proposal by putting in writing the specific questions the IUE members would be asked to vote on.

Finnegan had proposed Wednesday that a three-man fact-finding board be appointed to try to agree on a settlement. The IUE accepted the proposal. Westinghouse rejected it.

Robert D. Blasier, Westinghouse vice president in charge of industrial relations, said:

"We believe our employees, whose job security is at stake, understand the issues better than any fact-finder who has no personal stake whatsoever in the resolution of these issues."

The Salem China Co. will display a new dinnerware shape and from 10 to 12 new dinnerware decorations when it participates in the 77th annual Pittsburgh Pottery and Glass Show which opens its week-long run in Pittsburgh on Wednesday, according to James Armstrong, sales manager.

Approximately 2,800 wholesale buyers will attend the display that will cover two floors of the William Penn Hotel. The Salem China Co. display will cover two sample rooms on the fourth floor, Armstrong said.

John M. Hammer of Knox, Pa., executive secretary of the show, said producers are concerned about the effect on their business of a recent 10 per cent price hike the operators said was necessitated by a 12 per cent wage boost that became effective Jan. 1.

Attending the week-long session with Armstrong will be Harrison Keller, president of the Salem China Co.; R. M. Linder, assistant sales manager; and Warren C. Annis, sales promotion manager.

City Payroll Increased $12,452 In '55

The city payroll for 1955 showed an increase of $12,452.13 in wages over the amount paid out the previous year, according to figures released by Auditor Helen Coyne today.

The total payroll for last year was $315,882.60, compared to $303,430.47 in 1954.

The entire increase went to the city employees. The payroll for elected officials, $13,464, remained the same as in 1954.

City employees earned $302,418.60 in 1955. The previous year they received $289,970.47.

Mrs. Coyne attributed the increase to raises in the salaries of the police and fire chiefs and the hiring of two additional firemen and one policeman during the year.

Durig 1955, the mayor received $4,500; city auditor, $3,600; city solicitor, $2,400; city treasurer, $500; president of council, $360 and the seven city councilmen a total of $2,100.

Toward the close of last year the preceding Council granted raises to all city employees and elected officials, effective Jan. 1.

London Gripped By Worst Fog

Dense Black Vapor Heavily Poisonous

LONDON (AP)—Slight northeast winds broke up Britain's worst fog in three years today. But the weatherman said relief was only temporary.

The forecast was for another choking night of the smoke-laden pall that has gripped southern England for the past 48 hours, halting all air service to and from London.

Chimneys Funnel Soot
Into the swirling mists, millions of chimneys funneled soot, sulphur dioxide and other coal-fire byproducts. Scientific teams analyzing the dense black vapor during the night said it was even more poisonous than the great smog of 1952 which claimed 4,000 lives.

A spokesman for the British Oxygen Co. said more emergency calls for oxygen were received Thursday than ever before.

"The number of patients with chest diseases has greatly increased in the hospitals since the smog descended and numerous hospitals have asked for oxygen tanks to meet the emergency," he explained.

Hospitals Busy
Police said the last 24 hours had been the hospitals' busiest of the winter, and scores of people collapsed on the streets.

There were no official reports yet of smog fatalities. One hospital said it would take weeks to determine what deaths were attributed to the fog.

Who Pays Hospital Bill For Injured Holdup Man?

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP)—Who pays the hospital bill for a holdup man who gets conked on the head with a bar stool?

That question was puzzling Police Chief John Russell today after he received a bill for $117 from the East Liverpool City Hospital for its treatment of Al Pegra, 42, of Pittsburgh.

Pegra, whose case comes before the grand jury Tuesday, is charged with trying to hold up a tavern last Oct. 21 with a toy pistol. The tavern owner, James Arkadiou, hit Pegra with a bar stool, sending him to the hospital for a week.

The police chief has passed the hospital bill along to Pegra, but fears his department or county authorities have not seen the last of it.

Challenges Right Of Committee To Quiz Him

4 Others Balk At Questions; Reporter Fired For Silence

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert Shelton, a copy editor for The New York Times, refused today to say if he is a Communist and challenged the right of the Senate Internal Security subcommittee to ask him the question.

He contended that the question not only violated his rights under the First Amendment to the Constitution but also threatened freedom of the press.

When Shelton refused to invoke the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination, Chairman Eastland (D-Miss.) ordered him to answer the question "on penalty of contempt" of the U. S. Senate.

Shelton again declined to say whether he was a Communist, and emphasized that he was not invoking the Fifth Amendment.

Today was the third and final day of the current series of public hearings in the subcommittee's hunt for Red influences in the press and other media. Eastland said there will be other hearings later.

Eastland told reporters the subcommittee already is conducting closed-door sessions in preparation for additional public hearings later and added that the investigation "will not be confined to New York City."

So far most of those heard in the current phase of the inquiry have been employees of New York City newspapers.

One Loses Job
One of them, who refused to say Thursday whether he was a communist, promptly lost his job as a reporter for the New York Daily News. He is William A. Price, who said he started working on the Daily News as a copy boy in 1940 and has been with the paper ever since except for 4½ years as a naval aviator during World War II.

'55 Fire Loss Here Lowest Since 1942

The city's fire loss during 1955 totaled $10,652.48, the lowest annual fire damage loss since 1942 when $8,500 damage was caused by blazes. Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright stated in his annual report today.

Loss on buildings was $6,221.95 and on contents, $4,430.53.

Because of the low loss and the aerial ladder truck which will be delivered to the department this year, Chief Wright said he will request the Ohio Inspection Bureau to lower the city's fire classification. At the present time, Salem is in classification 5.

Firemen answered 155 calls last year. Of the total 16 were in Perry Twp., one each in Hanover and Green Twp., and the balance within the corporate limits of the city.

The largest loss occurred April 17, when fire severely damaged the E. State St. building which housed the Trading Post and the Cotton Shop. Damage to the building was $1,656.88; the Trading Post contents $3,994.28; and the Cotton Shop contents, $492.25. Total loss was $5,243.41.

In 1954 the city had a fire loss of $48,484.78 on buildings and contents valued at $865,700. The loss this year was on buildings and contents valued at $1,518,900.

One hundred eighty-one runs were made by the department in 1954.

A Job To Her Taste

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Marjorie Plamp, a young choir singer whose whisky intake for the last 7 years totals 700 gallons, is no secret drinker — but she has a drinking secret.

Every day, five days a week, year in and year out, she takes aboard an average of 25 two-ounce snifters of bourbon — or about two full bottles.

Even the steadiest patron of the cup that cheers might wonder how a 5 feet 2 young lady weighing only 115 could put down all that stuff and remain clear-eyed and steady — even if she came from Kentucky (which she does) and had two hollow legs which she definitely doesn't. The answer lies in Miss Plamp's drinking secret. She doesn't down the stuff. She merely swishes it around in her mouth for a few seconds, then spits it out.

"Yes, all of it," said Marjorie firmly. "Every drop."

She is, so far as she knows, the world's only full-time lady whisky taster.

"And I love the work—every moment of it," she said. "I'd be lost without it."

For the benefit of those interested in seeking steady (and you do have to remain steady) employment in this interesting field, Miss Plamp offers little advice. Chance played a considerable role in her own career.

After graduating with a degree in chemistry from a Catholic girl's college in Louisville, she got a job nine years ago as a laboratory technician with the Brown-Forman Distillery.

"Two years later they made me taster," she said. "I have to taste about 20 to 30 samples a day of whiskies in all conditions of aging—testing them for proof content, flavor, body, aroma and color."

"The taste test is indispensable. A whisky might pass a chemical test perfectly well but still taste mighty phooey."

Miss Plamp says she never takes a drink on the job and adds that, as a matter of fact, a distillery is one of the hardest places in the world for a fellow to cure a thirst.

"After every three samples, I have to rest my taste buds for five minutes," she said. "I confine my drinking to purely social occasions, and I have a two-drink limit. That's my capacity."

Besides requiring monumental self-control, a professional whisky taster is under other limitations. He can't, for example, take samples home to his friends.

"There are 14 government men around to check on things," she remarked.

"I had to take a great deal of kidding when I first got this job, but now my acquaintances are used to it. No, my family doesn't mind. After all, I am a chemist. My father gets a bang out of it."

Over the years Marjorie has become a real expert on bourbon. She denied that the fusel oil in bourbon causes the hangover one gets if he imbibes too freely.

"You'd have to drink a gallon and a half of whisky at one sitting to get a hangover from the fusel oil content alone," she said, smiling. "Do you know of anyone who does that?"

Miss Plamp sings alto in her church choir, her hobby is going on camping trips, and her current beau is a Princeton University English professor.

Has her unusual occupation had any unusual effect on her?

"Well, if I have a cold I have to let the samples pile up until I shake it and get my sense of smell back," she said.

"There's one other thing. I used to have a great deal of trouble with my teeth. But since I became a taster seven years ago I haven't developed a single new cavity."

She emphasized, however, she wasn't recommending whisky-rinsing the teeth 25 times a day as a substitute for a visit to the dentist. It merely has worked out that way with her.

One Of 11 On Trial As Reds Acquitted

CLEVELAND (AP)—One of the 11 defendants accused of plotting to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the government was acquitted yesterday and at least one other may be freed before the cases go to the jury.

Federal Judge Charles J. McNamee ordered the release of David Katz, a 42-year-old jobless bakery truck driver on grounds that he played a "passive" role as a Communist.

Katz wife, Frieda, still is on trial. Judge McNamee said evidence against Katz amounts to little more than that he accompanied his wife to Communist party meetings.

Defense lawyers, who will call witnesses to the court Monday when the trial resumes, had asked for directed verdicts of acquittal for all 11 defendants.

The judge, in ordering Katz' release, said evidence against another defendant, Elvador C. Greenfield, was "not as strong" as that against others on trial. He said Greenfield's case would be reconsidered before going to the jury.

MOTHER RESCUES SON

Man Wounds Woman, Then Kills Himself

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—William McMillin died of a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head last night after he had wounded a woman with whom he had been keeping company, police reported.

Detectives said Mrs. Bertha Osborne 37, was taken to City Hospital with what they described as three superficial wounds.

Neighbors told police they heard three shots in the woman's apartment before McMillin, a 48-year-old truck driver, ran into the hall way after his victim. He then turned the gun on himself, they added.

Jan. 31 Deadline On Crop Loan Approvals

L. L. Moff, chairman of the Mahoning County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, advises that Jan. 31 is the final date for approving loans and purchase agreements for wheat, barley, oats, rye and soybeans.

However, applications must be in before this date to allow time to complete the necessary inspections and other details, he said.

Applications should be filed at the County Office, 7 W. Main St., Canfield, on or before Jan. 20.

Mistinguett Dies

PARIS (AP)—Mistinguett, French music hall star for half a century whose legs were once among the world's famous, died today after a two-week illness. She was 82.

The noted entertainer died in her sleep at her brother's home in suburban Bougival. She suffered a paralytic stroke while spending the Christmas holiday there and subsequently developed pneumonia.

BAPTIST MINISTER DIES

MACEDONIA, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for the Rev. Alfred R. Woodworth, retired Baptist minister, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Kingsville Baptist Church with burial in Springboro, Pa. The Rev. Woodworth, 79, died at his home here Wednesday.

CRUSHED BY TRACTOR

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies said W. O. Lilly, 56, of Rt. 1, nearby Chesapeake, was crushed to death Thursday when a tractor upset on an incline, pinning Lilly between the tractor and a sled he was using to haul stones.

County CROP Contribution Totals $2,265

A total of $45,000 worth of food products will be supplied to needy families in foreign countries because of contributions received in the recently completed Christian Rural Overseas Program drive in Columbiana County.

Charles F. Cunningham of Hanover, county CROP chairman, said a total of $2,265.22 was contributed and "on the basis of $20 worth of surplus food products for each dollar contributed, many hungry children will be fed."

Cunningham said the largest contribution came from Fairfield Township. That township donated a total of $842. Butler Township gave $86.87, Knox $188.10, Franklin $117, Yellow Creek $68, Unity $66, West $41.65, Wayne $37, Hanover $31.25, Salem, $24, St. Clair $24, and Perry $10. Other townships and communities gave the balance.

Of the total, $1,936.87 was handled through the treasurer of the CROP committee and $328.35 was sent directly to CROP headquarters. Of the latter amount, $112 was given by the Salem churches, $49 by the Lisbon churches and $167.35 from other sources, Cunningham said.

He said additional contributions are expected to be received from Knox and Hanover townships.

OSU Astronomer To Aid Satellite Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An Ohio State University astronomer will supervise plans for the observation and tracking of the artificial earth satellites which may be launched within the next couple of years.

The university announced today Dr. Hynek will work with Dr. Fred Whipple, chairman of the Harvard Astronomy Department. Dr. Whipple is new director, also, of the observatory.

It quoted Dr. Hynek as saying that although the satellites' launching is yet some time away, it will take nearly two years to build the equipment and establish observation stations.

President Eisenhower said last August that more than 30 nations are cooperating in the scientific venture.

Dr. Hynek has been on the Ohio State faculty since 1935. He will remain on the Ohio staff and return to Columbus frequently during his service on the satellite project.

First tea farm in America was at Somerville, South Carolina.

BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Walter A. Froebick, 24, of Queen's Village, New York City, was fatally injured today as the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Bedford County Memorial Hospital about a half hour after the crash 30 miles east of here.

State police said Froebick's auto hit the rear of a trailer truck operated by Dan Domenich, 28, of Canton, Ohio. Domenich was not hurt.

Brunette to Blonde in Three Easy Steps!

Now any homeowner, like the one shown in the photo above, can change an old dark wood surface to a popular blonde or light wood finish without scraping or removing the old finish. A new wood finish especially designed for the older painted or stained furniture gives you a stained effect that is tough and chip-proof without spending time or patience stripping away the old surface, sanding and restaining.

It's as simple as one, two, three! The homeowner at the right is completing the first step—a base coat in the same color as the desired finish. Next a coat of color grain is applied and then the stained effects are created with a dry brush as shown in the inset. Finally, an application of a clear finish results in a final product like the end table at the left, which was previously the same color as the chair.

This means that the old table handed down from Aunt Sue or the fine old chair in the attic, garage, or basement can take its place with newer home furnishings. With a minimum of effort and three simple, foolproof steps, anyone can make the transformation from old-fashion to modern.

Middle Against Both Ends

Gov. Lausche's decision to run in Ohio's contest for the U. S. Senate seat now held by George Bender had been expected so long the actual decision last Wednesday had no particular effect on the prospects.

The real effect was on the prospects for the governorship contest. With Lausche out of that one, the entries from both parties can get down to business.

The Democratic hopefuls who want to compete against C. William O'Neill, the probable winner of the Republican primary for nomination next May, now can begin to beat the bush... to some purpose.

O'Neill, himself, although he was sure that Lausche had meant it when he said he would not seek a sixth term in the governorship, can hold the spotlight as the front-running candidate his record as attorney general qualifies him to be.

There will be an opportunity now for that fruitless speculation which is the life blood of political interest. What effect will Lausche's candidacy for the U. S. Senate against the strong Republican candidacy of Bender have on his status as a dark horse in the race for the Democratic presidential nomination?

With Bender running as an unqualified advocate of the policies of the Eisenhower administration since 1953, where will the points of difference between him and Lausche be found?

Another question also will intrigue the political speculators.

Having made his decision to run against Bender, would Lausche take a presidential nomination? It was offered by the Democrats next summer, thereby leaving Ohio Democrats in the lurch for the Senate race?

That will be something to chew over the rest of the winter and most of next summer while presidential politics settles into its quadrennial showdown.

Ohio's popular governor has a copyrighted technique for playing the political game. It has worked amazingly well for him in the past and presumably will be just as effective in the future.

He plays the middle against both ends. The basis of his vote - getting strength is the moderate core of voters in both parties. He has built his career on a policy of opposing extremism.

He will be a strong candidate for the U.S. Senate.

He also would be a strong candidate for the U.S. presidency if moderates in the 1956 Democratic convention were to prevail over the extremists of the left who have been bickering with extremists of the right for so many years.

A Dirty Word Anywhere

Whatever happened to the idea popularized about the same time that Americans were being urged "to swat the fly" that it was a misdemeanor to spit on sidewalks?

The motive behind the campaign to curb an inherently filthy and thoughtless practice was to check the spread of tuberculosis and other germ-borne diseases that might be carried in human sputum.

Moreover, it was a time when the widespread use of chewing tobacco made spitting an indispensable convenience. Spitting was one of America's most disagreeable bad habits.

But if there is less spitting per person now than there was then, there are millions more to commit the offense, as will be revealed by a casual inspection of downtown sidewalks. Even a casual inspection will convince a squeamish inspector that it's time to put back the signs once common:

No Spitting On The Sidewalk

Auto Production

Announcements by auto makers of scattered layoffs reflect a fact of business existence that has been a long time coming to view.

There is no such thing anywhere as an industrial operation that does not have to slow down once in a while to catch up to itself. Only in wartime can there be ceaseless production at an ever-faster pace—and then only because output is being blown up and destroyed.

Automobiles are not weapons of war, despite their production at a rate which suggested sometimes they were being junked on the spot instead of put into use for a term of years. Despite the auto makers' success in 1955 in keeping a boom-time production rate going, there had to be a catch-up time sooner or later. The over-use of credit alone would warrant a change of pace.

The layoff announcements are inconclusive. They suggest the possibility that the net effect may be not so much to curtail production as to regularize employment with a view to increasing the efficiency of production.

That, too, is one way the auto makers must catch up to themselves. The big push in their industry is to improve cost efficiency—a process that would have the ultimate effect of more production with fewer man-hours of labor.

Fund For Republic Could Erase Black Mark

There's a chance for The Fund for the Republic to redeem itself and meet the argument of its critics that the 14 million dollar fund originally donated to it by the Ford Foundation for education in American principles of government has not been used for that purpose. Hereafter the money has been spent to distribute various books and pamphlets and to support projects on one side of the controversy about the Communist party in the United States. Only materials that tend to show that the Communist party is merely a political party—not a conspiracy directed by a foreign government—and also booklets that tend to minimize the problem of "security risks" have thus far been distributed with the Ford money.

Now, however, the subcommittee of the Senate Committee on the Judiciary which has been investigating the whole internal security problem has issued a 100-page Handbook for Americans. It tells how the Communist party works.

THIS PAMPHLET can hardly have a wide circulation, as there is no fund in Congress to send out millions of copies to the citizens.

If The Fund for the Republic wishes to prove its impartiality and disinterestedness, the booklets can be obtained by it at cost from the Government Printing Office and sent to every school and college and to every member of every university faculty and to every writer, every schoolteacher and every clergyman in the country as well as to members of all civic and fraternal organizations.

The booklet was authorized by the Senate subcommittee and, its foreword, is the following statement:

"The average American is unaware of the amount of misinformation about the Communist party, U.S., which appears in the public press, in books, and in the utterances of public speakers."

IN PART, this misinformation is consciously planted by members of the party using ways and means calculated to have the greatest effect in poisoning the channels of American public opinion. In part, it is due to our ignorance of the problem—the problem of the existence in our midst of a mass conspiratorial organization controlled by a foreign power. The Communist problem is unique in our history...

"We earnestly believe that, given a more accurate knowledge of the Communist conspiracy, fewer Americans will fall victim to its wiles."

Robert M. Hutchins, formerly chancellor of the University of Chicago, who is president of The Fund for the Republic, gives in his annual report the impression that he believes the Communist party is just another political party and hence is being persecuted.

ONE OF THE Hutchins projects calls for payment to a prominent Communist for information on the workings of the Communist party, but with the understanding that he is not to be questioned on the conspiratorial phases of the Communist party's work.

This is a strange way to get information from a Communist agitator who refuses to tell what he knows to the government of the United States, yet asks that same government to give him protection under the fifth amendment of the Constitution.

If it is so necessary to pay Ford money to Communist witnesses to obtain facts to which the public is entitled anyhow, why wouldn't it be better, or at least as good, to let the American people read copies of the testimony sworn to under oath by Communists and ex-Communists who know the full story of all phases of the Communist party activity in America.

THE NEW HANDBOOK touches only the high spots, but there have been extensive hearings on these same subjects which have been printed by Congress. These are also available for distribution by The Fund for the Republic if it really wishes to be impartial and present both sides.

The new handbook says the Communist party in the United States was founded in September 1919 and declares:

"It is not a true political party and differs fundamentally from all political parties in this country. It is in fact a Russian-inspired, Moscow-dominated, anti-American, quasi-military conspiracy against our government, our ideals, and our freedoms."

Surely the detailed proofs and arguments to support the foregoing might be expected to be part of the educational task of The Fund for the Republic.

Certainly the idea ought to appeal to Paul Hoffman, chairman of the Studebaker Corp., who is chairman of the board of directors of The Fund for the Republic and a fair-minded man with a long experience in public service.

The Last Man On Earth

By TRUMAN TWILL

The Last Man on Earth—the one the spinster vowed she wouldn't marry—came lumbering into view.

He had the appearance of a rachitic rat. His eyes were shifty and beady. His long, fleshy nose, which had turned purple from bad habits, twitched and quivered above his fang-filled, fish-shaped mouth.

The paws that hung out of his sleeves were clawlike. They were fastened to his forearms with Tinker-Toy knobs where his wrists should have been. The Last Man on Earth looked as if he had been groveling in ditch water. His clothes were the color of ditch water.

When he removed the moth-eaten fur piece that served as a dolly for his bald head, it was obvious he lacked recent acquaintance with soap and water. His head had the oily patina that can come only from many layers of dust and tobacco smoke piled atop one another and held in place by natural body greases. Grime had grown into his face, especially in the wrinkles that had formed around the corners of his mean, leering mouth.

The Last Man on Earth was no credit to his male associates or to his forebears. He was more freak than example, and in himself he constituted a powerful reason for being the last of an undistinguished line.

Males had made themselves intolerable. They had to go; that was the size of it. In due time, which might be sooner rather than later, the Last Man on Earth would have to go, too, in the interest of good housekeeping. He was an abomination.

His shoes were untidy and run over at the heels. The holes in the heels of his socks extended far up the back of his legs and disappeared into the grimy cuffs of a pair of high-water pants shaped as if he had been caught permanently in the pose of a discus thrower about to let 'er fly.

Moreover, his spindly legs were bowed, like the legs of a underfed bird. Yet in spite of his emaciated appearance, he bore like a furtive loaf of bread hidden in his dirty shirt the bulk of a pot belly induced, obviously, by more of the bad habits that had purged his twitching proboscis.

As he moved with his shambling gait, he gave off an aroma like nothing which had risen to heaven since the Cretans quit feeding the minoan monster. His voice added to an impression of a zombie going somewhere to haunt an evil-doer.

Let's face it.

The Last Man on Earth—the one the spinster vowed she wouldn't marry—was from the bottom of the barrel. He was all that was left after all the other men had been taken out of circulation.

The guy had nothing. He was minus the works. He was beyond hope of redemption, with one exception.

The exception was the spinster who wouldn't marry him if he was the Last Man on Earth. She had changed her mind.

She had sized him up and made some quick mental calculations. She would put him through a steam bath, trick him out in new clothes, plump him like a Christmas goose with forced feeding and make him over like an old house—a new joist here, an improvement on the roof line and some chintzy curtains.

She would rehabilitate him, that is what she would do. And that is what she did. That is how all the Last Men on Earth, figuratively speaking, got married.

Nothing Like Having One's Own Transportation

Dewey Emerging

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Reports from Texas indicate that Tom Dewey is seeking the second choice preference from Republicans in that state. By second choice preference is meant that in the event that Eisenhower will decide not to run or cannot run or dies, this delegation would be for Dewey.

At any rate, word to that effect is being spread among Republicans with the hope of scaring the followers of Nixon and Knowland.

From other quarters come evidences that the Dewey organization is playing up his willingness to run for vice president.

THE STATEMENTS are going the rounds that Thomas E. Dewey is willing to sacrifice himself by accepting a second place on the ballot, so that should Eisenhower not be able to complete his second term, the United States would not be left in the lurch.

Dewey, it may be recalled, ran twice for the presidency, was twice defeated, and was the principal sponsor of Eisenhower for President. For such a man to take second place is indeed a sacrifice.

Suppose Eisenhower lives, as we all hope he may, to be as old as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch, Dewey could go down in the back pages of the "World Almanac" as among the vice presidents.

It is clear now that Sens. Knowland, Bridges, McCarthy and others will run in some states as favorite sons. Should they carry the states in the primaries in which they enter, enough votes would be withdrawn to make nomination impossible on the first ballot at the Republican convention.

IT IS NOT CLEAR how many favorite sons there will be, but most senators and governors like the mention and applause and when this game gets started, it rolls on and on.

A favorite son operation will also appear in the Democratic convention. Unless Eisenhower runs, neither convention will be of short duration therefore.

I have talked to some Democrats about the re-emergence of Dewey and they seem pleased because, they say, it means renewal of the Dewey - Taft split, an attack on the White House Regency, particularly on Sherman Adams, James Hagerty, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Maxwell Rabb by Republicans of the Taft persuasion, much of it on the floors of Congress. The Democrats say that it will help them enormously.

ON THE OTHER HAND, it must be recalled that it was the Dewey group in the administration, who organized and directed the fight on Sen. McCarthy which McCarthy lost but which nobody won. Up to now, the McCarthyites have been blaming Vice President Nixon for the character of the Watkins committee. If Dewey's name appears at the Republican convention, animosity will shift from Nixon to Dewey who will become the target of the McCarthyites.

In the convention, what counts are delegates. If the opposition to Dewey has enough votes, the Republican convention can be disrupted. As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower does not run, it is safe to say that the disruption is assured.

IF EISENHOWER does run and Dewey runs for vice president, the disruption is assured. That is why the Democratic leaders display such enthusiasm over any form of Dewey candidacy. They know that it means a fight inside the Republican party.

The Taft - Dewey enmity unfortunately lives on and will be kept alive by those who, while they cannot oppose Eisenhower, can oppose Dewey.

It is difficult to believe that the regency has already decided to side - track the vice president, Richard Nixon, in favor of Dewey, but that could happen because most of the regents are followers and associates of Dewey and are beholden to him for their advancement. If, therefore, he really wants the vice presidency, they would have no way of rejecting him.

IT IS NOT BELIEVED in strong Eisenhower circles that the President would reject Nixon who has made a more than satisfactory vice president, behaved admirably during the President's illness, and does not deserve to be treated as Franklin D. Roosevelt treated Henry Wallace.

So, as one adds up all the little items that come to hand, fact, rumor, propaganda, inside dope, unconfirmed reports, it looks like a fight at the Republican convention over the re-emergence of Thomas E. Dewey.

Installment Buying

Speaking before a joint meeting of the American Economic Association and the American Finance Association, Alan Sproul, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, offered a warning against an excess of consumer installment credit. In doing this, he has voiced from a post of high authority a fear that has possessed some of us less informed in the economic problems. He has stated the limitations imposed by law up on the power of the Federal Reserve System to check the excesses to which a thoughtless public has in the past been subject, and of which it seems once more to be the victim.

I have noted with wonderment and no little concern the many new directions into which installment selling has moved. The purchase of an automobile in these days is in most cases a necessity. But when a dealer develops a plan by which the purchaser "buys" a new car every year with a constantly diminishing equity in his "property," I wonder whether either the dealer or the industry or the "buyer" really knows what they were doing.

I entertained a small shock when I read that vacations were no longer to be measured by what people could afford, but that they might luxuriate on the beaches of the world on so much a week or month in the long stretch ahead.

I noted with apprehensive amusement the story of a New Yorker who bought via installments a saxophone and some lessons thereon to be enjoyed by his 75-year-old father.

But the idea of going to a movie and paying later in installments really seemed to be the ultimate. I have been reluctant to express my doubts heretofore, partly because I fear that my old-fashioned ideas about what used to be called "tick" are outmoded, and I cannot change jargon with the "new" economists.

I have also some of the tenderness of the Scotchman at a gay party. It seems that after the pleasant round of refreshments and conversation had gone on for some time, a member of the party exclaimed that the man sitting next to him was dead. The man on the other side of the corpse said: "Ah, wee. I knew it all the time, but who am I to break up a gay party?"

Also, when I have mentioned my worry to an economist - especially one who is working for an industry thriving on installment sales, I have been told that there are "built-in" protections and that the Federal Reserve is the basic factor in these restraints.

Now a real master of economics and practice of the Federal Reserve System has said it, and there it is from Alan Sproul: "Thackeray says in Vanity Fair: 'Everybody must have observed how well those live who are comfortably and thoroughly in debt; how they deny themselves nothing; how jolly and easy they are in their minds.'"

"Well, I am not jolly and easy in my mind. I am disturbed by the present situation in consumer installment credit, just as I was concerned, under different conditions and for different reasons, about stock market credit until the Board of Governors was given power to establish, and to vary, margin requirements. I am disturbed not by the total amount of consumer credit, but by the fact or the indication that successive relaxation of terms has been largely responsible for keeping the ball in the air."

"This is a process which cannot go on indefinitely, and when it ceases there will come a time when repayment of old debt will catch up with new extensions of credit."

The special stimulus of a rapidly increasing net supply of consumer credit, which has contributed so much to the record production and distribution of consumer durable goods during the past year will then be gone, at least temporarily.

Will it then become clear that we drove our productive capacity to unsustainable limits - for the present - by borrowing consumer demand from the future?

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

"What about the safety belts? They come with the car of course."
"No, they're extra."
"You mean Detroit thinks it optional whether I go through the windshield or not!"
"All I know is that safety belts are listed as extra equipment."
"I don't quite get it. Do I understand that if I am saved from bashing my head or cracking four ribs the auto builder will charge me for the escape?"
"Listen, mister, I'm just a salesman, not a philosopher."

"Let's try to figure it out together. The auto industry says it is horrified by the casualties and injuries and will do anything to keep the toll down. Am I right... and if you're charging me extra for an answer, don't give me one!"

"You're right as rain, but I should charge you for arguments."

"The industry puts out an auto for two thousand, eight hundred dollars, adds a couple of belts and bills them as extra equipment together with the radio, the rear lights, the undercoating, etc. Isn't that bruising me up, even before an accident?"

"A customer like you should go through the windshield anyhow."

"Look, suppose I buy this car but not the safety belt, and get hurled out of the car in an accident. Won't you feel a little ashamed to have asked a few dollars extra for the belt?"

"It's not my job to decide whether you are a study in thrift or just a fool in a plaster cast. Try the agency next door. Maybe they can do more for you."

"One more question. Suppose I pay for the safety belt as an extra and get thrown through a windshield just the same. Do I get a refund?"
"No. Anything that happens to you is up to Blue Cross."

"Now about those safety door-latches that don't pop open under a sudden jar... are they regular equipment?"

"Step into this model and just try those latches!"

"HELP! I've closed the doors and the locks are so good I can't GET OUT!"

"Wonderful! I was hoping for a respite."

"Do you think I should marry?" Prince Ranier asked. I said, "Stay single and be happy." The prince laughed a lot at this. . . . Elsa Maxwell. . . . No old-fashioned vaudeville at Monte Carlo, eh, Elsa? . . . Fifteen million dollars worth of old movies have been sold for TV presentation. . . . How much is that in cowboys, broken saloon furniture, mountain passes, stage coaches and pistol tofers? . . . Maybe Ike changed his mind and went to Key West just to test his resistance to loud beach costumes. . . . Somebody sent in a bid for $1.10 for Nashua and the mystery is now cleared up. . . . Sudda Haddim confessed today. . . . "I like horses," he said. "I've been a tough season with me and I was down to three dollars and a dime. I bid a dollar ten which was all I had considering as how I had to save two dollars on a good thing the next day." . . . We keep wondering whether Mr. Combs, paying the $1,250,000 for Nashua said to the great race horse, "That ain't hay. . . . even if my bid made it seem so."

With Ireland in the United Nations, the scraps should be shorter and better, with fewer pulled punches. . . . And a good Irish philosopher like Mr. Dooley in the U.N. could rejuvenate the joint, bring horse-sense, honesty and clarity of purpose.

Looking Backward

FROM THE NEWS FILES

FIVE YEARS AGO - The Salem China Company's large display at the 72nd annual Pittsburgh Pottery and Glass show has drawn favorable response since the opening of the show Thursday at the William Penn hotel.

Harold Asty, who has been superintendent of Phillips Christian Church Sunday School for 16 years, was re-elected to his post when new officers were chosen.

Mrs. L. G. Maffett, new president of the Women's Relief Corps, was installed in ceremonies conducted by Mrs. Harold Babb, retiring president.

TEN YEARS AGO - Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gabrich and Mrs. Josephine Plegge spent Sunday in Canton.

Lt. (jg) Lionel R. Smith has been assigned to the naval personnel separation center, Jacksonville, Fla.

Wallace S. Luce, SM 2c., has been discharged from the navy at Great Lakes after spending 16 months in the Aleutians and 18 months in Hawaii.

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO - John Gunesch was installed as president of the Salem Musicians Union Monday night. John W. Hundertmark is secretary.

Mrs. Pearl Nubum and Mrs. John Webber Jr. were included in the guest list when members of the Clever Card club met Monday evening with Mrs. Charles Leaf of Brooklyn Ave.

Mrs. George Campbell entertained associates of the Monday Afternoon club.

FORTY YEARS AGO - John Cavanaugh returned to Notre Dame University Thursday after a two weeks vacation spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cavanaugh of Euclid St.

Miss Esther Clark and Bernice Grove returned to Martha Washington school at Washington after visiting relatives here.

Miss Martha French of Cleveland returned there after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph French of Ellsworth Ave.

When baby chicks grow up big enough to lay eggs, it's no wonder they no longer say "cheap, cheap."

Women are better auto drivers than men, according to statistics. Maybe because they drive so slowly they hold up those long lines of cars.

Ohio Unions Eye Political 'Virility'

Griffin Raps Lausche On Jobless Pay Bill

CLEVELAND (AP)—A leader of the Ohio State Federation of Labor has promised "virility" in political activity through the merger of his group with the Ohio CIO Council.

Phil Hannah, secretary-treasurer of the AFL organization, yesterday addressed some 1,400 delegates to the Ohio CIO Council convention, which later directed its executive board to establish a committee that would process merger talks in line with the merger of the parent federations last month.

Hannah, who is expected to get a top position in the merged Ohio labor organization, declared:

"The merger will bring virility to our political activity and add substance to our collective bargaining and trade union policies."

The two Ohio labor councils have two years to combine, according to terms of the AFL-CIO merger agreement relating to city and state organizations.

During the opening convention session yesterday, Council President James P. Griffin, who also is Youngstown district director of the United Steel Workers, attacked Gov. Frank J. Lausche for opposing the CIO-sponsored referendum to increase unemployment compensation.

Griffin declared Lausche's "political ambitions are more fantastic than his 'fantastic' statement on our initiative petition." The bill, which the governor had labeled "fantastic" was turned down by Ohio voters. It would have raised unemployment compensation to a $59 weekly maximum.

Lausche, a Democrat, recently announced his candidacy for the United States Senate seat held by George H. Bender.

The CIO leader did not say whether he would support Bender in the November election.

TO MEDIATE BUS DISPUTE

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. mediator today will enter the contract dispute between union bus drivers and the City Transit Co. here. The union has threatened to strike Jan. 15 if a new contract is not approved.

Federal Mediator H. J. Montone said he will work with representatives of the company and Local 208, Transport Workers Union, in an effort to draw up a new contract.

First explorer to touch the American mainland was John Cabot.

Judge Throws Out McCarthy Charge

BOSTON (AP)—A federal judge today threw out contempt of Congress charges brought against a witness by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), ruling that McCarthy's Senate subcommittee on investigations never had authority to investigate anything but the operation of government departments.

United States Judge Bailey Aldrich ruled the McCarthy subcommittee, in asking former Harvard University research assistant Leon J. Kamin, 27, questions relating to privately operated defense plants, "was beyond the scope of its granted authority."

He pointed out the McCarthy subcommittee was part of the Senate Committee on Government Operations and "government operation meant the operation of government departments, not private operation of private industry, even though under government contract."

Judge Aldrich brushed aside Kamin's contention that his constitutional rights had been violated, but acquitted him on the ground McCarthy's committee was operating beyond its authority—even though the defendant did not raise this point when called before the committee.

INJURED BY BULL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A. W. Marion, state director of natural resources, suffered a wrenched knee Wednesday when knocked to the ground by a 6-month-old bull at nearby Pickerington. Marion said the injury was painful, but he plans to be back at his desk in Columbus next Monday.

GOVERNORS TO MEET

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Govs. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio and George Craig of Indiana will discuss plans for improving lock and dam 41 on the Ohio River at a meeting in Louisville Tuesday.

Chandler's office, in making the announcement, said the dam—at the river's falls at Louisville—has been termed a "bottleneck" to transportation in its present condition.

EDITOR TO SPEAK

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, will give the commencement address Feb. 5 at Miami University's mid-winter commencement.

Following the business session, a penny lunch was served in the dining room by Mrs. James Thomas and Mrs. Ray Stockton and their committee.

The next regular meeting will be Monday, Feb. 6 in the temple.

Mrs. Hill Hostess To Oakettes Club

Mrs. Robert Hill of Jefferson St. entertained members of the Oakettes Club Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Joseph Weiss, Mrs. Pat Colian and Mrs. Joseph Fisher were awarded "500" honors.

The hostess served refreshments to conclude the evening.

The Jan. 18 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Horning of Fairview Ave.

LITTLE BITS OF HATS.—For those impatient with hair that won't grow to a manageable length, a hair piece is a flattering answer. These three are custom designed and have little bits of hats made to go with them. Each piece and hat can be worn in several positions. A traditional bow chignon (left) is worn low on the neck with a velvet hat and satin bow above it. Figure-eight chignon (center) goes well with a patent leather and velvet hat. Page boy piece (right) gets crescent-shaped velvet clip.

North Benton Church Has Annual Meeting

The annual congregational meeting of the North Benton Presbyterian Church was held Wednesday evening.

The meeting was preceded by a coverdish dinner with the wives of the church trustees in charge of the tables.

The opening devotions were led by the pastor, Rev. Donald K. McGarr. Mrs. Harry Watkins served as pianist. Harold Phillips, secretary of the trustees, acted as clerk of the meeting.

Election of officers and reports highlighted the meeting.

Miss Dora Henry and Harry Watkins were elected elders for three years, filling the vacancies left by Leland Glass and Harold Paulin whose term expired.

Trustees elected for five year terms were George Bullis and Perry Cullison. Cullison was elected financial secretary for a year, and John Hammond was re-elected the church treasurer for the year.

Allan Leitner, president of the trustees, told of the work of the board of trustees and reported on the plans for the redecoration of the church sanctuary.

Bullis explained that fill dirt for the completion of the parking lot is now available and would be hauled to the church grounds.

Goshen Union Boosters To Meet Monday

DAMASCUS — The Goshen Union Booster Club meeting will be held in the High School building Monday evening at 8.

Secret Neighbors were revealed when the Jolly Neighbors Farm Women's Club held its Christmas party with a covered dinner at noon Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Baker. Gifts were exchanged with eight members present. The next hostess will be Mrs. Joe Batzli Jan. 31.

It was decided to give $5 to Mrs. Earl Mather to purchase records for Jackie Mather who is in the Children's Hospital in Akron. Gifts were also presented children of the club members.

Devotions were conducted by the host when Mr. and Mrs. Merle Shreve entertained the Mens Missionary Fellowship of the Friends Church Tuesday evening. A tape recording of an address on Mens Relation to the Church by Dr. Clyde Taylor of Washington, D.C., secretary of the National Association of Evangelicals, was presented. Dr. Taylor gave the address at the Mens Missionary Convention in Adrian, Mich. recently.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Shreve with ten present.

Gifts were exchanged when the Tri-County Bridge Club was entertained by Mrs. Orville Reich. Contract Bridge was the pastime with prizes being awarded Mrs. Bert Hendricks, Mrs. Edward Wentzel, Mrs. Lea Bennett and Mrs. Walter Loesch. Mrs. Loesch was a guest. Lunch, with holiday appointments, was served by the hostess, Mrs. Robert McDonald will receive the group Jan. 26.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Merle Shreve of Damascus that their son-in-law, Rev. Walter W. Jeffries of Mingo Junction, pastor of the Grace Wesleyan Methodist Church has been appointed the new president of Marion Area Youth. Prior to his election he was organizer of the Ohio Conference Youth and served four years as its president.

His new appointment gives him a place on the General Council of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Baker entertained a group of neighbors and friends at a New Year's party Saturday evening honoring her father, Carl Martig and his bride, the former Nola Minesinger of Alliance. Gifts were presented the couple, a social time was enjoyed and lunch, featuring a three tiered cake, baked by Mrs. Allen Stanley, was served. The couple are living in an apartment at 10 Geiger Ave., Alliance.

The Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club was entertained at a dinner Wednesday by the leaders, Mrs. Allen Stanley, Mrs. Herbert Whitchee and Mrs. Richard Gologram at the home of Mrs. Stanley. The girls received their certificates, pins and money awards, and a gift was presented each girl by the leaders. Games were enjoyed.

Democratic Women Will Hold Benefit

A benefit for members and guests is being planned by the Salem Democratic Women's Association on Feb. 10 at Ruth Smucker House. It was decided at the association meeting Wednesday in Smucker House.

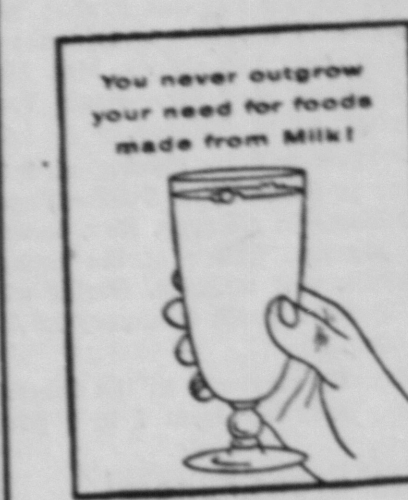

Chairmen of the affair include Mrs. William Barry, supplies; Mrs. Bud Boals, tickets; Mrs. Martin Lutz, Jr., prizes; and Mrs. Geo. Horning, refreshments.

A committeeman of the Sesqui-centennial celebration will be the speaker at the regular meeting on Feb. 1 when Mrs. George Horning will be social chairman. Each member is asked to bring a guest to hear the speaker.

At Wednesday's meeting Mrs. Barry reported on the Christmas boxes sent to two boys at Lancaster, and Mrs. Bud Boals reported on two boxes sent to two needy families during the holidays. The project of wrapping gifts for foster children was reviewed by Mrs. Harold Hannay.

Cleanliness To Be Password At Columbiana County's Jail

LISBON — Cleanliness will be the password at Columbiana County's new jail when Sheriff Howard J. Clark begins moving prisoners in next Wednesday.

In the rules and regulations drawn up for the new jail by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp, definite rules for cleanliness are listed — a far cry from the jails of old times.

millionaire builder and civic leader, was gay and informal.

A reporter asked Kelly: "How do you feel about this? Are you happy about it?"

"Sure," said the father genially. "It's all right. Yes, it's fine."

When the question was put to Miss Kelly whether she planned a large family, she laughed and nodded yes. She was about to elaborate but her mother took it from there, asserting:

"Why, certainly she'll have a large family. I'm a grandmother, and I like a lot of grandchildren."

Miss Kelly said the actual wedding date has not been set, and that it is uncertain whether the ceremony will be performed here or in Monaco.

Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination. Price refused to answer many of the subcommittee's questions, although Eastland repeatedly told him he was risking punishment for contempt of the Senate.

The Daily News published in today's editions a telegram it said had been sent to Price by Executive Editor Richard Clarke, saying in part:

"Your conduct as a witness before the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee . . . today has destroyed your usefulness to the News. Therefore your services as an employee of the News are being terminated immediately."

Three witnesses questioned Thursday refused to say whether they are Communists. A fourth, Dan Mahoney, a rewriter for the New York Daily Mirror, swore he subcommittee . . . today has declined to tell if he ever had been.

Smith Township To Have Two JP's On Job

SEBRING — The number of Smith Township justices of the peace will remain the same, a report of the Mahoning County Justice of the Peace Commission reveals.

Smith Township now has two justices of the peace, E. J. Hardy and his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Charleston.

The townships of Berlin and Ellsworth were made one justice of the peace district as of 1959. Ellsworth Justice Joseph Cessna's term expires in 1959. Berlin Township has not had a justice of the peace in several years.

The county commission was composed of Common Pleas Judge David Jenkins, Probate Judge Clifford Woodside and County Commissioner Fred Wagner.

Olin Heads Greenford Board of Education

GREENFORD — The Green Township Board of Education has reorganized by electing Clarence Olin president.

R. W. Kenreich is vice president.

Two re-elected members sworn in were Olin and Kenreich. Fred Clause was rehired as clerk for the year.

Fred Puttkamer and Kenreich are on the buildings and grounds committee; Wilbur Weaver and Sam Thomas are on the teachers and bus committee. The board approved an appropriation measure.

Regular meeting of the board will be the third Thursday evening of each month at 8.

Driver Is Fined $40; 2 Forfeit Bonds Here

Edward G. Snyder, 24, of Sebring, arrested by state highway patrolmen on Rt. 62 Sunday for speeding, was fined $40 and costs by Mayor Dean B. Cranmer Thursday.

Forfeiting $25 bonds this morning on overload charges were Charles J. Stamets, 31, of Beach City and James Shea, 25, of New Milford, N.J.

For instance, the rules state that each prisoner must "wash his entire person and change his entire underclothing once in each week" and the sheriff or jailer must see to it that prisoners' clothing is "washed and cleaned as often as is necessary."

The rules also state that the sheriff or jailer must ascertain whether prisoners are "free of vermin or contagious disease."

Male prisoners must shave at least twice a week and have a haircut, at county expense, whenever necessary. Unoccupied halls and cells are to be swept each day and the floors are to be washed once a week, the rules state.

In addition, the halls and cells will be aired and ventilated and wastes removed "at all proper times."

The rules also list two visiting days — Tuesday and Thursday from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. for 15-minute periods and, on busy days for five minutes. Clergymen and attorneys will be allowed in at any time on the prisoners request and upon consent of the sheriff or jailer.

The rules go on to say that "if the board of commissioners do not appoint a regular physician for the jail, the sheriff or jailer shall call in medical or surgical aid to the prisoners."

Other rules provide that "each cell shall at all times be provided with one copy of the Bible" and that stationery shall be furnished to the prisoners at the cost of the county.

However, no prisoner will be allowed to write more than two letters per week unless special permission is granted and both incoming and outgoing mail will be "examined and inspected by the sheriff or jailer."

Lights will be turned off in cells each evening at 8 from Sept. 1 until May 1, the rules state. Only unruly and dangerous prisoners will be "manacled and fettered" during their terms in jail, the rules add.

Hanover Twp. Trustees Re-Elect Charles Gause

Charles J. Gause of RD 1, Hanover township was elected chairman of the Hanover Township trustees at its reorganization meeting Tuesday evening at the township office.

John Kibler of New Garden was elected vice chairman of the group. J. M. Ridgeway of Hanover is the other trustee.

The road improvement program for 1956 was discussed during the meeting. The group also took inventory of their equipment.

Mr. Gause is employed at the O. S. Hill Co. at Lisbon.

Negley School Gets $45,000 State Grant

LISBON — Negley school has been awarded a grant of $45,000 by the new state board of education to build a one-room addition to the new six-room school at near Negley.

The school, now under construction, is expected to be completed in the spring. The new room will be for general purposes.

Negley was rated as "top priority" by the state board to obtain the emergency fund. The community, with the highest tax millage in Columbiana County (30 mills) was unable to raise additional money to build a gym, auditorium, kitchen and meeting room.

considered in future highway planning."

Then it decided to consider adding the sections to the major thoroughfare system only after a specific proposal for a relocated highway is submitted.

The council recommended the highway department consider the proposed relocation of Ohio 43 in its next action. It approved addition of Ohio 43 from its west junction with Ohio 171 to its east junction with the same route, and removing Ohio 171 from the major thoroughfare system between those two points. The proposal from the public would have Ohio 43 relocated on a county road between Malvern and Ohio 44, and over Ohio 44 north to U. S. 30 and over Ohio 30 west to Canton.

It was a proposal from the public that Ohio 75 north from the Ohio River be classified as a major highway. The council said it would consider the proposal only after a specific proposal for relocating Ohio 75 is submitted. It commented:

"The future development of this area justifies the consideration for future highway planning of an adequate highway northward from the Ohio-West Virginia industrial center in the area of Huntington, and a preliminary survey should be made to determine the line and probable cost of such a route."

Also proposed by the public was adding Ohio 618 from Hubbard to Poland to the major thoroughfare system. The council postponed action, saying it will consider the proposal the same time "urban circumferential additions" to the interstate system are considered for addition to the major thoroughfare system.

Officers Installed By Booster Club

Installation of the Booster Club's new officers for 1956 highlighted the club's weekly meeting Thursday in the Memorial Building, according to John Sebo, president.

Newly elected officers installed besides President Sebo were: John Holzwarth, vice president; Frank Walwaale, treasurer; Alden Smith, three-year director; John Pastier, two-year director; and Martin Debnar, one-year director.

Ray Yeager, re-elected to the post of secretary this year, resigned the job at the meeting since business out of Salem will keep him from attending the meetings. Another member will either be elected or appointed by Sebo at the next meeting.

Salem Head Basketball Coach John Cubas was on hand at the meeting and talked to the group concerning the Quakers chances in future cage games this season.

Quakers, Seeking 5th Victory, Face New Philly Tonight

Host Team Has 3-2 Record

Only One Senior On Starting Five

By CARL NADRASY

The Salem Quaker cage team, reminding of the 33-0 lacing their football team was handed from New Philadelphia in the first grid game of the past season, will be seeking vengeance when they take the floor against the basketball edition of New Philadelphia in the New Philly gym tonight. Reserve game time is 7 p.m.

New Philadelphia, also nicknamed the Quakers, will be out to stop the locals' four - game winning streak with an upset victory.

Coch Leo Benjamin, in his third year as cage coach at New Philadelphia, has seen his boys win three games so far while dropping two. The downstate Quakers have upended Cambridge 77-76, Newcomerstown 85-38, and Uhrichsville 50-47 while losing to Canton South 65-77 and Ashland 51-78.

Last year the New Philly cagers under Benjamin compiled a 14-10 record in regular season and tournament play. In the tournament, they went as far as the district playoffs with Zanesville before losing to Martins Ferry.

According to pre-game information, Coach Benjamin has been faced with a "no height" problem this year. Of the first team members this season, three of which are lettermen, only one is six feet tall, all four of the other starters ranging between 5-8 and 5-11. The average height of the first team is 5-10½.

Benjamin will have only one senior, letterman forward Gene Wenger, 6-0, on his starting five. Other positions on the opening New Philly quintet will be held by juniors John Gray, forward, 5-11; and Bill Cooper, center, 5-11, and sophomore guards Jim Watson, 5-8, and Jim Rolli, 5-10.

Seniors Jim Masarelli, 6 - 0, Dave Reynolds, 5-11, and Jack Garrett, 5-10, will also see plenty of action in the tilt.

The five lettermen back for Benjamin this year are Rolli, Watson, Wenger, Masarelli and Reynolds. All the varsity members with the exception of Wenger and Reynolds played against the local grid team at Reilly Stadium last Sept. 16.

Rolli has been the big gun for New Philly in their first five encounters, rolling up 63 points for a 12.6 average. Gray is second with 53 markers for a 10.0 average.

Salem Coach John Cabas' boys, eager to get going after almost a two week layoff, have been going through the fundamental practice sessions and scrimmages to keep from getting stale from lack of real game competition.

After winning their first four contests of the young season with comparative ease, the Cabasmen will have to beware of overconfidence in their next three contests. After the New Philadelphia fray tonight, the locals will tangle next weekend with Warren at home on Friday and at Ravenna on Saturday. All three of these opponents are not rated as powerhouses this year, but cannot be ranked as pushovers. All three will also be trying desperately to break the Salem win streak if it continues.

Cabas will be going along with four of his regular starters, Matt Klein and Mark Fenton under the bucket, and Rich Hunter and Jack Alexander outside. Either Jim Meissner or John Stephenson will be in at tipoff time at the other outside post.

Coach Karl Zellers Reserve team will be seeking its fourth straight victory in the 7 p.m. preliminary game when they take on the New Philadelphia Jayvees.

Officials for the varsity contest will be Vic MaLat of Canton, referee, and Ed Smith of Strasburg, umpire. There will be no advance ticket sale for the game tonight, but tickets can be purchased at the New Philly gymnasium gates before gametime, according to Fred Cope Salem High School athletic director. General admission prices will be 60 cents for adults and 30 cents for students. There will be only 50 reserve seats available at the gates for all patrons on a first-come, first-serve basis, Cope said.

Another Class A game between the McCulloch's and Strouss-Hirschberg teams will be a preliminary contest to the Cow Girl fray. Referee for this game will be Frank Lanney and Tony Martinelli, while Al Catlos and Torch Nedelka will officiate the Cow Girl - Salem Tool contest.

Dayton Trips Duquesne, Geo. Washington Upset

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Dayton's third-ranked Flyers have themselves a 10-game winning streak at the moment, but more important, seven-foot Bill Uhl has shed his sleeping giant role and matured into a full-fledged Goliath in college basketball.

Time was when the big fellow wasn't much more than a foot guy standing on a step ladder. He had height but couldn't move.

But Thursday night Big Bill moved with relative ease as the unbeaten Flyers ran away from Duquesne 68-52. Uhl had 23 points, all but three from the field, and grabbed 24 rebounds.

All was not butter and honey among the top-ranked teams Thursday night, Maryland, playing possession ball, upset seventh-ranked George Washington 66-44. And lightly regarded Spring Hill of Mobile, Ala., tumbled previously undefeated and 12th-ranked Memphis State 69-65 with a fantastic closing drive in the title game of the Senior Bowl Tournament at Mobile.

George Washington, which hadn't been choked off with less than 50 points since 1950, couldn't get the ball away from Maryland. The Terps just played catch and dared the Colonials, who had averaged 82 points a game in building a 9-1 record.

Memphis State seemed headed for an 11-0 record, leading 63-48 with 7 minutes left in its bid for a second straight Senior Bowl crown. But then Spring Hill went off on a tear, striking for 21 points while State got just a field goal.

State attempted a freeze with a 2-point lead and less than 3 minutes left, but Spring Hill twice stole the ball and Ed Tibbets pumped in the clincher from under the basket with 40 seconds remaining. Gene McGuire, who scored the tying points, was high with 27.

Elsewhere, Vince Yockel scored 30 points as Clemson defeated Miami (Fla.) 98-96 in the Senior Bowl consolation game. Western Kentucky wiped out a 3-point deficit and Ohio Xavier's unbeaten record 73-72 with Montrose Holland sinking two free throws for the clincher with less than 2 minutes left to edge the Ohioans. And tall, talented St. Louis breezed past Loyola of New Orleans 110-79.

Tulane, led by Cal Grosscup—making his first appearance after transferring from Purdue —smacked Georgia 72-56 in a South-eastern Conference game.

Lisbon, Carli, Tool, McCulloch's Win In City Class A Tilts

Lisbon Lumber, Carli Lumber, Salem Tool and McCulloch's all posted victories in Class A play last night at the Memorial Building.

In the opener Lisbon Lumber rallied in the second half to win over Midway Motors 77-69. Midway opened up with 21 points in the first period and 17 in the second while they held Lisbon to a total of 35 and the first half ended 38-33.

The second half was a different story as Lisbon put in 19 points and sharpened their defenses to hold Midway to only 12 tallies. Going into the final period of play the score stood at 57-50 and Lisbon stayed on the pace as they poured in 23 points to Midway's 19 to win 77-69.

Dick Woods was high scorer for Lisbon as he tallied a total of 28 points, while Mercure hit for 22 to pace Midway.

Carli Lumber, in the second tilt of the evening, won a lopsided decision over Mullins 90-44. Carli jumped off to a first period lead of 25-10 and held it throughout. Mullins was outplayed in all periods as they couldn't seem to find the range. The second stanza went 17-14 and the half ended 42-24. The remaining two periods went 21-9 and 27-11 as Carli Lumber won easily 90-44.

Billy Yoemans set the pace for Carli with 21 markers and Benny Roelans led Mullins with 20.

Mount Union Cagers Will Meet Reserve

Mount Union College plays host to Western Reserve University on Saturday night when the two teams will be meeting each other for the 37th time since the series started in 1897-98.

Leading the Raiders into the contest will be Mount's sensational sophomore, Don "Goose" Talbert, who is ranked second in Ohio Conference scoring and 14th among the small college scorers throughout the nation. The 6-4 combination forward and center has hit for 134 points in five games to average 26.8 markers a contest.

Freshman Charles Kemp is averaging 11.2 points a game, and junior Bruce Pumphrey and senior co-captain Jim Walton have each averaged 11 points for the Raiders, who have a record of three wins in five outings.

Western Reserve, with a record of one win and five losses, will be eager to break into the win column since the five losses have come in a row after the opening game win over Penn 82-60.

Coach George Hunter of the Raiders will probably use Jack Gottschling of Salem and Pumphrey at the guards, Talbert at center, and Walton and Kemp at the forwards, the line-up that has been playing fairly regularly.

Boxing Dead In New York

Guild Won't Break Up On Jan. 16 Deadline

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Big-time boxing in New York is dead. Final services will be held Jan. 16.

The Boxing Guild of New York Thursday night voted unanimously not to dissolve its membership as ordered by Julius Helfand, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, who set a Jan. 16 deadline. The guild said it had the full support of the 16 other guild affiliates.

"We've done nothing wrong," said Charlie Johnston, president of the International Boxing Guild, of which the local guild is an affiliate. "We're ready to fight in New York right now. But if he (Helfand) takes our licenses away, we have to go out of town. We'll go anywhere to get fights. None of us is resigning."

Helfand isn't backing down either, from the tone of his press conference Thursday afternoon. He blasted the Monday night television fight promoters who decided to move to Baltimore, effective Jan. 23, and called one of the Baltimore promoters with whom they will work "Frankie Carbo's representative." Carbo, according to Helfand, is a notorious police character with a powerful influence in boxing.

"I state from the most unimpeachable source that Benny Trota (who promotes in Baltimore with his son-in-law Angelo Munafò) is Carbo's representative in the city of Baltimore," said Helfand. "In the last three weeks, previous to this deal (moving the televised fights from St. Nicholas Arena in New York to Baltimore) Frankie Carbo and Benny Trota, whose real name is Benny Magliano, met in the city of Baltimore to engineer the deal."

Helfand said he would hold a hearing to see if disciplinary action was necessary against Tex Sullivan and Willie Gilzenberg, the St. Nick's promoters. Under New York law, a license can be revoked for persistent association with a known criminal. He said Trota and Munafò have records of arrests.

The two Baltimore promoters weren't available for comment but Nick Trota, Benny's brother, denied any dealings between his brother and Carbo and added that Munafò was a liquor licensee in Baltimore, saying, "In Maryland, a criminal can't get a license." Helfand obviously was upset by the fact that the Maryland Athletic Commission, whose chairman J. Marshall Boone had promised to support his fight against the guild, had let him down. In Maryland, Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin ordered a "full and immediate" investigation of boxing in Maryland and called on Boone for a "full and complete report" on the Monday night transfer.

Wellsville Continues Its Winning Streak

The Wellsville Tigers' basketball squad, the Salem Quakers opponent Jan. 27 at the rivertown, continued their winning streak Tuesday night as they turned back the previously undefeated Steubenville Big Red 48-44.

The win marked the Tigers' fifth straight victory, and against high school opposition, it was only the second time a team has scored over 40 points against them. Only the college-studded Alumni has gone over the 50 point total.

After handing their Alumni quintet a 61-52 defeat, the Tigers have

State Hospital Building Plan Is Submitted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 75-million-dollar state hospital building program, about one-fourth of which would go for new hospitals in Ashland and Hamilton counties, has been proposed by State Sen. Raymond E. Hildebrand.

The Lucas County Republican presented the plan yesterday before the state board of capital planning and improvement. He said it would solve state hospital building problems.

An additional 7,945 beds for mental patients would be provided under the program, Hildebrand explained.

One 2,500-bed hospital would be located in Ashland County, and a 1,000-bed hospital in Hamilton County, he said. Both hospitals would cost nearly 19 million dollars.

Hildebrand said their construction would relieve overcrowding at Cleveland State, Hawthornden, Massillon, Cambridge, Tiffin, Toledo and Athens institutions.

Enlargement of other state hospitals would not be needed, he added, if the proposed two hospitals were built. His program, however, provides for improvements at most institutions.

These improvements, Hildebrand said, would provide additional beds to make up the overall total.

Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland), board chairman, said the board will meet Wednesday to study recommendations for building needs by mental health, school and university groups. The board then will submit its report to the Jan. 16 special session of the Legislature.

Columbiana Historians To See Old Pictures

COLUMBIANA — Slides made from pictures of people and places in Columbiana 40 years ago, to be shown by W. B. Miller, will be an interesting feature of the quarterly meeting of the Historical Society of Columbiana and Fairfield Township in Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church at 8:15 p.m. next Monday. The public is invited.

Mrs. Gladys Webb Cross of Cleveland, whose collection of oil paintings executed by herself were exhibited in Columbiana in November, took the pictures in 1915 in her early youth. They are principally views of the business quarter in which some of the people who were then active in business are shown. Twenty-five pictures are in the collection.

Slides will also be shown by W. H. Matthews of Salem, who has traveled extensively over the North American continent.

Members of the historical society invite suggestions from the public to help further its work of procuring and preserving mementoes, especially of local interest.

THE ANNUAL ATHLETIC banquet will take place the first week in April, the date to be fixed after a speaker has been obtained, it was decided at the January meeting of the Booster Club in the High School building Wednesday evening. Profit from the club Christmas tree sale will be about $180. New officers installed were: John Dowd, president; Forrest Stark, vice president; Wilder Forstch, secretary; Art Rohrer, treasurer.

Plans were made for a valentine party Tuesday, Feb. 14, for the kindergarten department at Dixon School at a meeting of the Kindergarten Mothers' Club at the school, Wednesday evening. Favors for the party will be made at the next meeting, Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, after which there will be a demonstration of Stanley household products.

A. M. (Cy) McLaughlin, retired New York Central locomotive engineer, who spent a week preceding Christmas setting up his miniature railroad in the living room of his home on Beverly Drive off E. Park Ave. Ext. will let it stand a couple of weeks longer. It attracts annually many sightseers who are welcome.

The layout includes 100 feet of track on a 5x12-foot platform. Factory-made steam and diesel locomotives draw strings of freight and passenger cars through a town and a tunnel at one end.

Miss Nellie Koch, chairman of the Columbiana community chest campaign, reports that more contributions have increased the total to $5,703 toward the $6,500 quota, with a few more sources yet to be heard from.

The Past Noble Grands' Club of Pandora Rebekah Lodge will have installation of officers at its meeting Monday evening. Hostesses will be Vida Wenderoth, Mabel Lewton and Margaret Wise.

DIRECTORS OF THE Columbiana and Mahoning County Potato Growers' association at the meeting in the office of the Columbiana Farm Bureau Co-operative Tuesday evening will make final arrangements for the annual meeting of the association at Heck's Restaurant Wednesday evening, on Feb. 22.

Columbiana postoffice is receiving registrations of aliens, who are required by Federal law to register during January.

Richard E. Uselton and wife, who are spending a short vacation at home after more than a year in Western Europe, where Mr. Uselton has been serving as an erection engineer for the E. W. Bliss Co., of which he has been an employee eight years, will sail from New York, Jan. 11, on their return to Europe. Their tour of duty this time will take them to northern Norway among other places. Uselton, a graduate of Columbiana High School, served in Europe during World War II.

The bloodmobile will be in Salem again Tuesday, Jan. 10. Prospective donors from Columbiana and vicinity may arrange appointments and transportation by calling Mrs. C. W. Dewalt, 2-4635, or Mrs. Walter Miller, 2-4643.

Rev. A. Laten Carter of Salem Presbyterian Church will be guest preacher at the community service in the Presbyterian Church at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Columbiana Clippers play Leetonia here tonight.

Ohio Vendors To Get New Sales Tax Plates

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Tax Director Stanley J. Bowers announced today Ohio's 217,000 active vendors will get new metal plates to help them receive proper credit for sales tax stamps they buy.

Vendors, mostly retailers, buy stamps periodically, and throughout the state there are 40,000 purchase orders every week.

In some cases the old plates are worn and impressions they make on purchase orders are almost illegible, Bowers said. This means six clerks are needed to check vendors' stamp purchase orders. When the new plates are distributed between now and July 31, only one clerk will be needed, he added.

Mailman On Sick Girl's Route Has Busy Week

CHICAGO (AP)—The mailman on the route embracing little Helen Wilson's home has had a busy week.

He has delivered about 3,500 cards and letters and 100 packages to the 5-year-old girl's home. The writers, from all parts of the country, were answering the request of policemen of the Jefferson Park station for persons to write to Helen, whose father Kenneth, is a policeman at the station.

The mail was sought in an effort to make a probably brief span of life brighter for Helen, who has leukemia.

In 70 per cent of all fatal automobile accidents, one or both drivers violated one or more safety laws.

Mr. Annis will reside in Salem with his wife and three children. The appointment was effective Jan. 1.

2 Men, Trucking Firm Named In $500,000 Suit

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Daniel Motor Freight, Inc., of Warren, Ohio, is one of three defendants named in a $500,000 damage suit stemming from an accident in which five persons were killed when a runaway tractor-trailer struck two cars.

The suit was filed in federal court yesterday by attorneys for Mrs. Willa Fearer, 37 year old widow of Clifford P. Fearer, and her three children. Fearer was one of five killed when the truck ran down Big Savage Mountain at La Vale, west of Cumberland, last Oct. 19.

The suit names Ray Wells, the truck owner, and Paul S. Meyer Jr., the truck driver, both of Rt. 2, Dover, Pa., and Daniels Motor Freight, which had leased the truck from Wells.

It contends the tractor-trailer was in "dangerous and defective condition" when Wells leased it to Daniels and that Wells should have known its condition.

Bears To Be Honor Guests

Boosters Will Sponsor Football Banquet

LEETONIA — The 1955 Leetonia Bears' football team will be honored Wednesday evening when the Community Booster Club sponsors its annual football banquet in the high school beginning at 6 p.m.

Lawrence Stolle, sports editor of The Youngstown Vindicator and avid supporter of the Blue and White during past years, will be guest speaker for the occasion. Herbert Arfman will serve as Master of Ceremonies.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at Roosevelt's Drug Store, Ripley's Men's Shop, or can be purchased from members of the Booster Club.

An invitation to attend is extended to all parents of squad members and local football fans.

AT THE REGULAR meeting of the fraternal order of Eagles held Tuesday evening, Rudy Franko was elected to fill the unexpired term of vice president made vacant by the resignation of Richard Bell.

The 31st Mobile, 6th Platoon Civil Defense Unit will meet in the Rebekah Hall Thursday evening. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hope and son visited relatives in Harlem Springs and Steubenville Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leonard visited her brother, Walter Kennedy of Salem this week.

Joseph Keyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keyser who is home on holiday leave will report to Newport, R.I. Jan. 10 for sea duty.

Elmer Sweeley is a patient in Salem City Hospital.

James Stewart Injured During Work On Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor James Stewart was nursing a wrenched back today, his studio said, after being dragged 50 feet in a parachute harness during the filming of "The Spirit of St. Louis."

The actor was pulled over rough ground when a battery of wind machines, producing a blizzard, caught his parachute. Stewart, playing the role of Charles Lindbergh, was supposed to have bailed out and landed in a snowstorm.

Family Of 5 Found Frozen In Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The five frozen bodies of the Simeon Wassela family were found Thursday on the snow-swept tundra near Lake Ilamna, 250 miles southwest of Anchorage.

Only two of their nine sled dogs remained alive. Dead were the 40-year old father, his 35-year-old wife and their three children, ranging in age from less than a year to 14.

A Civil Air Patrol plane made the discovery. Searchers said the family apparently died from exposure.

AWAITS ROBBERY SENTENCE

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP)—A man questioned by U. S. FBI agents in connection with bank holdups at Canal Fulton and Waterville, Ohio, will be sentenced Jan. 11 on charges of robbing a Hamilton drug store and illegal possession of firearms.

Reginald Harvey, 40, of Brantford, Ont., has pleaded guilty to both charges. He and another man also are charged with the armed robbery of a telegraph operator at nearby Burlington Jan. 1.
